MESSAGE FROM THE DEPUTY VICE CHANCELLOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

The period March – April, 2021 was characterized by continued efforts to improve quality of service through the development, review and implementation of Guidelines and Procedures for academic process. This was a critical activity to enable staff effectively and efficiently handle academic matters within the Regulations, Policy and Guidelines. This strict adherence to the guidelines further ensures that students consistently receive quality service when they seek guidance in various academic related functions. The University further, after extensive consultations with various key stakeholders, relooked at its pricing model and rationalized fees to ensure sustainability and Quality of programmes. The University Senate subsequently approved the proposal set to take effect for the beginning of the 2021/2022 Academic Year commencing in September 2021.

Prof. Julius Ogeng'o
Deputy Vice Chancellor Academic Affairs

The University is still the best ranked University in Easter and Central Africa in Webometric ranking. It is, therefore, paramount to maintain and even better compete with other global contemporaries by remaining competitive through regular self-assessment of the University website. This was the defining reason for the Audit of Faculties and Departmental websites spearheaded by the Senate Committee on Alignment of Website Content with the UoN Mandate. This exercise will be an annual activity in the University's calendar.

Student welfare is a fundamental part of developing a wholesome individual. The University is a concentration of Talent, this was better expressed during the inaugural Talent Day. After three days of rigorous auditions the very best had their day with the judges on March 12, 2021 at Taifa Hall. Going forward this too will be a yearly function.

UON HOLDS INAUGURAL TALENT DAY

The University of Nairobi provides a platform not only for Academic Excellence, but also gives a chance to students to pursue and excel in their various talents. Students from across the University Campuses showcased their talents in various categories during a three day audition programme. The best were picked to showcase their talents and innovations. The Talents were categorized as music, poetry, narrations, ICT, Engineering innovations and Art.

Speaking during the grand finale Prof. Julius Ogeng'o, Deputy Vice-Chancellor Academic Affairs noted during his opening remarks 'The definition of a world-class University is inclusive of a concentration of talents,' Expect therefore a concentration of talent in its diversity.'

Faith Naliaka opened the stage by singing her own composition and performed, Beyoncé's Brown skin girl in Kiswahili.

Jesse Mbuthia performed with a guitar, Amondi Were and Beryl Mengich caught the participants' attention with their powerful performances on Music.

In ICT and Engineering Innovation, Joseph, a 4th year Electrical Engineering student took the audience through an improved system of Students Management Information System- an ingenious innovation designed to simplify the SMIS system.

Karanja Abundant, a first year student In Urban Planning took the audience through his innovation of a device that uses infrared technology to detect the number of people boarding Public service vehicles and automatically alerts NTSA when they carry more passengers than allowed.

These were just but a section of the talents on display during the inaugural edition of the Talent Day which promises to be even better in the next edition.

UON INDUCTS UNSA LEADERS

The University of Nairobi The University of Nairobi held an induction workshop for the newly elected UNSA Leaders on February 26, 2021, at the KCB Leadership training Centre. The Deputy Vice Chancellor, Academic Affairs Prof. Julius Ogeng'o outlined the need to acquaint the UNSA leaders with the structure, culture and functioning of the University. The significance of this forum was further enhanced by the presence of the University Executive Board led by the Vice Chancellor Prof. Stephen Kiama and the entire UNSA Leadership led by the Chairperson of the Student Council Mr. Eddie Mwendwa Mutua.

Role of Students in Management

Student representation in management of the University remains a critical pillar in responsible governance. The DVC Academic Affairs, took the student Leaders through the role they were expected to play as representatives of the students in the management of the University, as stipulated in the University Statutes XIX; 6 (V) and XVI; 1 (IX), the UoN Charter, 2013 19 (1n) and the Student Code of Conduct, 2020 28.1 (v) and 28.3 (iv). He further encouraged them to remain focused on their academic output as that was the main objective of a student.

UON REVIEWS FEES

The University of Nairobi Senate approved the revision of Fees payable to the University by self-sponsored students across different categories. This will ensure students pay fees commensurate to the programmes they undertake. The University of Nairobi for a long time had not reviewed its fees despite the dynamic nature of the higher Education sector and the ever changing economic landscape of the country. As a result, the cost of University of Nairobi programmes were way lower than those of its contemporaries in the region and beyond. This model will further enhance quality and sustainability of delivery of programmes taking into consideration recommended class sizes for the programmes thereby maintaining the required student-lecturer ratio. These fees however will take effect with the student reporting in September 2021 for the 2021/2022 Academic Year. Continuing students will continue to pay the fees set at the beginning of their studies.

UON CONDUCTS INTERNAL WEBSITE AUDIT

Overall Score

WE FOUND 10 ISSUES

Examined at : Aug 21, 2020, 4:04:57 |

The first Internal Website Audit was a success

The University of Nairobi remains the best ranked University in Eastern & Central Africa on Webometrics. The focal point being management of the University's website with the ranking parameters being Openness, Impact and Excellence determined through a comprehensive analysis of the website. The University Senate recommended the alignment of website content to the University mandate and in so doing configured the content along the categories. This formed the basis for the evaluation of the teaching departments and college websites. This constant self-evaluation has yielded positive results that have seen the University ranked favorable amongst its peers in the global frontier.

The Internal Website Audit conducted on May 13, 2021 saw the members of the Senate appointed Committee on Alignment of Website Content to University Mandate evaluate Departmental and College websites and rank them appropriately on merit. This exercise saw Institute of Nuclear Science and Technology emerge the best with 74% score followed by KAVI-ICR and School of Education on 72.2% and 70% respectively among the Faculties/Schools/Institutes category. In the Departments category the Department of Kiswahili emerged top with a score of 68% followed by Departments of Chemistry and Department of Civil & Construction Engineering on 67.7% and 64% respectively.

Among the key recommendations identified from the exercise included training of a pool of Internal Website Auditors, development of a Website Manual to assist Departments and Units, periodic Staff and Student sensitization and diarizing the internal website audit to enshrine it as a regular event.

UON PRIORITIZES COVID 19 VACCINATION FOR STAFF

The University of Nairobi prioritized the vaccination of staff against COVID 19 with the University Health Services issuing the first dose of the Astra Zeneca Vaccine. The University Health Services was registered as a COVID-19 Vaccination Centre by the Ministry of Health and the Nairobi County Government, through the Nairobi Metropolitan Services.

This noble initiative was aimed at providing care to University employees specifically medical health-care professionals in the College of Health Sciences and other University staff in the course of service.

Leading by example the Vice Chancellor Prof. Stephen Kiama accompanied by the Deputy Vice Chancellors led staff in taking the first doses of the vaccine.
